

CITY Y. M. C. A. TO CONDUCT EXPANSION FUND CAMPAIGN

For the first time in ten years the Washington Y. M. C. A. will conduct a campaign for funds for expansion purposes. On account of the constantly increasing demands for housing and educational facilities, and in part to meet its annual financial obligations, a drive for $125,000 will be conducted from January 25 to February 2.

It has been found that conditions are now more severe than at any time during the war. With the signing of the armistice and the demobilization of the young men of the country have awakened to the fact that an education is absolutely essential to a business or professional career. Requests have been pouring in to the local Y. M. C. A. for enrollment in the educational classes and for rooms. While the local plant is at present not adequate to meet this overwhelming demand, the directors feel that with alterations planned the plant may be made large enough to accommodate at least some of the overflow.

Clifford L. Johnson, associate general secretary, has been appointed campaign director and announced plans yesterday for conducting the drive. There will be four divisions, each in the charge of a leader and

AIDS CAMPAIGN FOR REDUCING NUMBER OF FATAL ACCIDENTS

In connection with the Red Cross nation-wide campaign to reduce the number of deaths occurring through accident or carelessness in the United States each year, Commodore W. E. Longfellow, assistant director of the life-saving corps, Red Cross, during the past week gave instruction in self defense, in methods of reviving unconscious persons and in rescuing people from burning structures to 160 commissioned and non-commissioned officers of the local police department, the evening session, the women's bureau and some 400 patrolmen. The last class, attended by 200 police men, was held yesterday, and Commodore Longfellow left the city for the west in the interests of the campaign.

Perhaps the most interesting experience was with the patrolmen at the District building. The instruction was given them how to defend themselves against gun and knife attacks, how to carry a

RESUMES WORK EXCAVATING IN COLORADO NATIONAL PARK

Dr. J. Walter Fewkes, chief of the bureau of American ethnology, has recently resumed his field work on the Mesa Verde National Park, Colorado.

This park is the only one of its character on this continent that is reserved by the United States government for the protection of the aboriginal buildings, and in recent years the Department of the Interior and the Smithsonian Institution have cooperated in the excavation and repair of ruins in order that they may be preserved for generations yet unborn, after having been preserved to show their original structural features.

The field work of last summer was devoted to a cliff dwelling, called a square tower house, from a high tower situated midway in its length. This is forty feet high and is the highest building constructed of masonry by Indians north of Mexico long before the white man reached that section of the southwest. It adds to this unique feature the best known specimen of prehistoric masonry, shown in the construction of the roofs of two circular rooms. The original rafters are still in place, showing the marks of stone implements used by the builders.

The whole vein, which measures 125 feet in length, is very conspicuous and has already become one of the greatest attractions of the park.

Last of the Lafayette Escadrille.

Wearing many war decorations, Sergt. Robert L. McLane has just returned to his native country. He is the last of the original Lafayette Escadrille, and one of the first Americans to fight in the world war. He has been decorated with the B. S. C., the Croix de Guerre, and the Croix de Guerre.

PLANS TO TRAIN YOUTHS FOR BIG NAVAL RESERVE

Secretary Daniels Will Lay Proposal for Summer Courses Before Congress.

Plans for building up a great naval reserve force by the establishment of summer training courses for high school and college youths at the naval training stations will be laid before Congress by Secretary Daniels in the near future.

Announcing the plan, Secretary Daniels said it was proposed to put it into effect next summer. The Great Lakes, Hampton roads and Pacific coast training stations would be used.

Transportation and subsistence would be provided for those who take the training, the Secretary said, and the tentative plan contemplates short cruises on naval training ships as part of the course, which probably will be fixed at two months.

Those completing the training would become members of the naval reserve force, unless desiring to enter the active naval service. Mr. Daniels said he would like to see a class of 10,000 placed in training at the Great Lakes station alone next summer.

WOMAN SEVERELY BURNED.

Children Playing With Flaming Paper Set Fire to Her Dress.

Mrs. Alice Fitzhugh, colored, seventy years old, 128 Kendall street, northeast, was severely burned yesterday morning. Children playing with burning paper, it is stated, set fire to her clothing and she was unable to extinguish it before she had been badly burned. Physicians at Washington Asylum Hospital said her condition was critical.

MISSOURI PAYS HOMAGE TO GEN. PERSHING

A. E. F. Commander Heads Parade in Kansas City—Presented With Gold Sword.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., January 10 (by the Associated Press).—Hailed as the "Victorious Missourian" fresh from the battlefields of Europe, Gen. John J. Pershing today was greeted by thousands of his "fellow Missourians," as he expressed it, and in turn bowed and smiled to the throngs that pressed about him wherever he appeared. The general led a parade through the city, as guest of honor at a luncheon at the chamber of commerce, spoke to two women's clubs and to the state convention of the Missouri Highway Engineers' Association and was presented with a gold sword.

The sword presentation was made in Convention Hall late in the afternoon, where a great crowd awaited the coming of the general. As he neared the platform the crowd stood and cheered, while thousands of flags waved. The golden sword, purchased by popular subscription, was presented by Dr. Burris A. Jenkins of Kansas City. In accepting it Gen. Pershing said he did so "in the name of the gallant and courageous young men of Missouri, whom I had the honor of commanding on the battlefield."

Speaking at this public reception, Gen. Pershing referred to the "days of unrest following the war." He asserted that here and there are to be found "spots dangerous to the stability of our institutions," adding that the country would and the American Legion a "steadfast force standing out against those who would destroy this great government."

Jailed on False Pretense Charge.

Earl B. Tupper, a young white man, charged with one offense of false pretense and two attempts at false pretense, was given a hearing in the United States branch of the Police Court yesterday, pleading guilty to each charge. He was sentenced to serve 20 days in each case, or a term of 30 days in jail.

Crushed Fruit Desserts
Delightful Dainties at Trifling Cost

We make these offers to show more women what Jiffy-Jell means to them.

Jiffy-Jell differs vastly from other quick gelatine desserts. Each package contains a bottle of condensed fruit juice.

We crush the fruit, condense the juice, and bring you real fruit in abundance in these Jiffy-Jell desserts.

That's the important point. Flavor is mere taste, and often artificial. The fruit itself is rich in earthy salts. Everybody needs it every day.

For a Few Cents

Fresh fruit and canned fruit are expensive. Here are rich fruit dainties which are not. And they are rich in fruit. Half a pineapple, for instance, is used to flavor one Jiffy-Jell dessert. Then almost a whole lemon is used to acidulate the mixture.

Yet a package of Jiffy-Jell serves six people in mold form.

and twelve if you whip the jelly—all for a few cents.

It is also quick. Simply add boiling water, as directed on package, then the fruit-juice flavor from the vial, and let cool. Millions are using these quick, economical fruit desserts, and no home now should miss them.

Try These Flavors

Try Loganberry and Pineapple for desserts. Try Lime-fruit flavor. It makes a tart, green salad jelly. Mix in your salad before cooling. Or mix in meat scraps and make an appetizing meat loaf.

Try Mint flavor. It makes a zesty mint jelly to serve with meats or as a side dish.

Try them now. Then send us the end labels which mention the flavor, and get the Jiffy Cup and any of our molds.

See the coupon. Cut it out so you won't forget.
